

COLUMBIA SPECTATOR

ARCHIVE

Columbia Daily Spectator, Volume CXIX, Number 28, 23 February 1995 — For the record [ARTICLE]

For the record

“You’re sitting there thinking that you’re going to die, when you decide that the responsible thing to do is have the test done ..., and then you’re told that you have to wait another two months—it’s brutal.”

—An anonymous student on the six-week wait for AIDS testing at University Health Services. See story, page 1.