

COLUMBIA SPECTATOR ARCHIVE

Columbia Daily Spectator, Volume CXXVI, Number 29, 1 March 2002 – The Campus Calendar [ARTICLE]

THE CAMPUS CALENDAR

FRIDAY

8:00 a.m. - 5:30 p.m. Columbia Women in Business presents its ninth annual conference, "Inspiring Success: Sharing the Experiences of Women in Business," with keynote speakers key note speakers Ann Kaplan '77, managing director of Goldman Sachs & Co, and Pamela Thomas-Graham, president and CEO of CNBC. Register at www.cwib.org Lerner Hall.

7:00 p.m. The Association for Students of African Descent presents Diasporations: A Cultural Extravaganza, in honor of Black History Month, with poets, dancers, steel drummers, vendors, and food. Admission is $3. Lerner Hall Auditorium.

SATURDAY

1:00 p.m. The United Students of Color Council presents a panel discussion on hip hop, sexuality, and HIV/AIDS among youth and communities of color. Satow Room.

3:30 p.m. Hillel visits the sick at St. Luke's. Meet at the Amsterdam Avenue and 116th Street gates.

8:00 p.m. The United Students of Color Council presents a concert to benefit the Adolescent AIDS Program. Admission is $8 for students, $10 for others. Tickets go on sale at 6:00 p.m. at the Lerner box office. Lerner Hall.

11:00 p.m. The brothers of SigEp present West End Red XXXVII with a DJ and drink specials. Admission: $4 to get in, $3 if you wear red.

18 to party, 21 to drink. Basement of the West End.

SUNDAY

7:00 WBAR sponsors "Jazz to Hip-Hop," a musical celebration of Black History. Brooks Living Room, Barnard Campus.

8:00 p.m. The a cappella group Nonsequitor will perform with special guest group the JMU Overtones. Furnald Lounge.

MONDAY

7:00 p.m. La Maison Francaise of Columbia University and NURTUREart Non-Profit, Inc. present "A Virtual Tour of the Contemporary Art Scene in France: A Slide-Enhanced Talk" with Barbara Hunt, director of Artists' Space in New York City, Marie-Pierre Nakamura, U.S. Correspondent for Art Actuel, Paris, and Antoine Vigne, director of Visual Arts, French Cultural Service, French Embassy, New York City. Admission is free and open to the public. Buell Hall, East Gallery.

8:00 p.m. The Bach Society presents the Bachiade Chamber Music Series. Admission is free. Sulzberger Parlor, Barnard Campus.